

Neutrality Training

Creating Long Term Success

1

Get Distance & Give Job

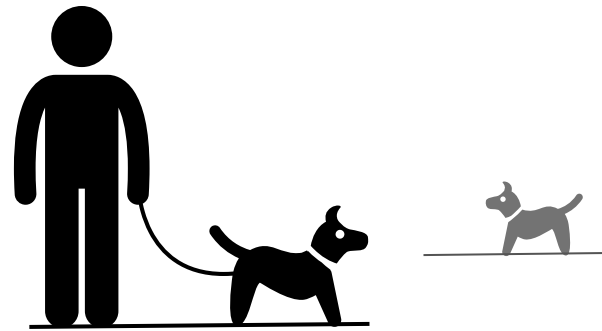

- Get enough distance from the trigger that your dog stays under threshold but still see's it. Then structure your dog in a heel or sit.

2

Be Curious Not Rude

- Let your dog be curious about the trigger but dont let them stare for too long (3-5s). If they are rude (hard staring or lunging) correct it or move to next step.

3

Redirect & Follow Up

- Redirect your dogs attention onto you after the trigger has passed:
 - If they did not react, reward them.
 - If they went over threshold, create distance from the distraction put them in a time out (sit or down stay).
